Single mother of three will receive an early Easter blessing from a local nonprofit agency

DALLAS, Texas – Dwell with Dignity, a non-profit group of Interior Designers and volunteers, will reveal their newest creation for a young mother that was once homeless on Thursday, March 28, 2013 at 6:00 pm. Tiffany McGuffin was selected to receive a makeover of her new home through a contest sponsored by Dwell with Dignity for graduates of Interfaith Housing Coalition's transitional housing program for homeless families.

“We are so proud of Tiffany and everything she has accomplished as a resident of Interfaith and as a graduate of our self-sufficiency program” said Kimberly Williams, Interfaith’s Chief Executive Officer. “Her journey from homelessness to homeowner is remarkable and we are happy to have provided an avenue for her to transform her life and improve her children’s future.”

Thanks to the generosity of Dwell with Dignity, dedicated volunteers and donors, Tiffany’s first home will be a warm environment, that includes good design and art that can inspire a standard of living that will carry-over to her children. Dwell with Dignity hopes that the same environment will help inspire Tiffany to maintain her new standard of living and that she will continue to thrive in it.

ABOUT INTERFAITH HOUSING COALITION

Interfaith Housing Coalition was founded in 1985 with the mission to help homeless families transition to self-sufficiency and new hope. Interfaith exclusively serves working poor families—primarily single mothers with children—via one of the most rigorous and effective self-sufficiency programs in the Dallas area. Program services include transitional housing via 49 decorated apartments the agency owns debt-free; extensive financial literacy training; job search assistance and career development; and nurturing after-school and summer programs for children and teens. Additionally, the children and teens are provided one-on-one tutoring to bridge education gaps as result of their homelessness. For more information, please visit www.ihcdallas.org.

ABOUT DWELL WITH DIGNITY

Dwell with Dignity exists to help families escape poverty and homelessness through design. Dwell with Dignity works with social service agencies that serve families dedicated to changing their lives by learning to become self-sufficient. The goal is to create soothing, inspiring homes for families struggling with homelessness and poverty to change their outlook on life. With the support of volunteers and donors, Dwell with Dignity provides and installs home interiors for families that include furnishings and art, bedding and kitchen supplies, and food in the pantry.
